IN DEDICATION TO MR. SWEENEY

STACK

1968

In admiration and appreciation of his ten years valuable service to the High School of Commerce, we dedicate this edition of "Caduceus" to our principal, Mr. Philip A. Sweeney.

After graduating from high school in 1934, Mr. Sweeney, in order to finance his college education, began working for F. W. Woolworths as a busboy. He washed dishes and mopped floors 57 hours a week for the huge salary of $14. Increasing his wages to $18, he acquired the position as an assembly line inspector at the American Bosch.

Beginning his college education, Mr. Sweeney attended American International College and graduated cum laude in English in 1941. Continuing his education, he then attended Harvard University from 1942 until 1949. During this term he received his Masters Degree in English. Later, from 1948 until 1949, Mr. Sweeney took a graduate course in administration at Springfield College.

Mr. Sweeney began what resulted as twenty-five years in secondary school work in 1942 when he became the English Department chairman of Monson Academy. He spent more than eighteen of these twenty-five years in administration of junior and senior high schools, all within the greater Springfield area. Beginning in 1947, he became an English teacher at Forrest Park High School. In 1950 he became principal of Classical Junior High School and vice-president of Classical High School. Then in 1953, Mr. Sweeney became principal of Forest Park Junior High School where he stayed until being appointed principal of our school in 1958.

Mr. Sweeney has been a very active member in the Springfield educational system. He is a member of the New England School Development Council, and National and Massachusetts Secondary School Principals Associations. Also, he is a trustee of AIC and received the Outstanding Alumnus Award in 1966.

In 1964, Mr. Sweeney had the honor of representing our country at Berlin, Germany during the International Conference on Modern Languages. This year, he was also chosen to represent our country at New Delhi, India during a comparative study of school administration. This journey was completed by making a complete trip around the world.

Speaking on his ten years at Commerce, Mr. Sweeney notes that many changes have taken place. The raising of hemlines and lowering of hair lines are those most notable in students. All sports, particularly tennis, reading, and conversation were listed as his hobbies. Long hair, white lipstick, and heavy make-up are his particular pet peeves.

Mr. Sweeney singles out Commerce as being the best high school in Springfield because he feels it is the only school which offers a sufficient college preparatory and business course combined.

As a gift of a portion of the knowledge he has obtained from working with students during these past years, Mr. Sweeney wishes to extend this message to the entire student body:

"The world of ideas is the only one that transcends time and space. Today represents a culmination of man's efforts to improve his lot and he has in things material. But with education, with love of your fellow man, and with love for the ideas of justice, equality, and freedom, your generation can and must lead the way into a realm of higher life for us all. I wish you Godspeed!"

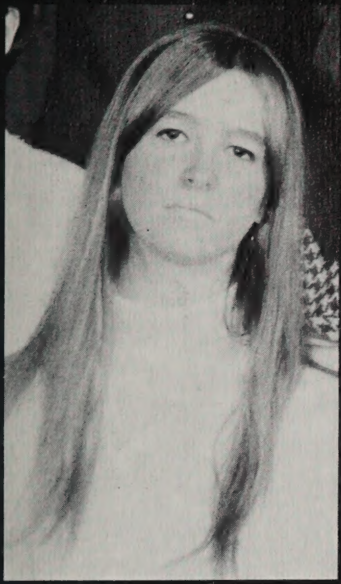
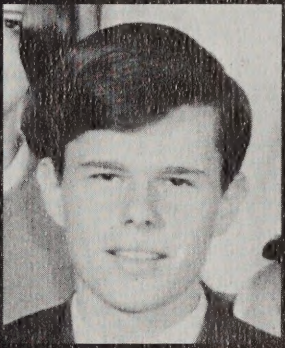
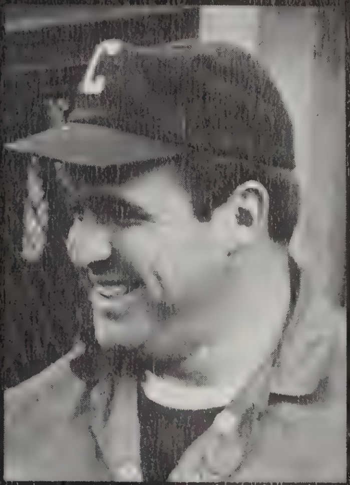
FOREWORD





Anticipation, fear, joy, pride, and excitement are the emotions that motivate action. And what is a yearbook but a record of action? Because faces reflect emotion so readily, we have chosen as our theme for Caduceus 1968, "The Many Faces of Commerce."

FACULTY



Throughout the many phases of our high school education, our entrance into the rising horizon of knowledge has been through the persistance of our faculty. The teachers and administrators who guide us have devoted themselves to making us realize the preparation needed to face the world of today.

PHILIP A. SWEENEY
Principal
High School of Commerce

Mr. Troy's dissatisfaction is evident as he checks with habitual absentees.

Duties of office personnel are varied.

Different members of the office staff at Commerce perform such tasks as making out and mailing college transcripts, selling bus tickets, and compiling the daily absentee list. Without these willing workers, our high school would operate much less efficiently.

MRS. DOROTHY MALONE

Art classes stimulate aesthetic appreciation.

Music is offered in many forms at Commerce.

Through art, students are given an opportunity to express their creativity. The three classes brighten our surroundings by designing posters and Capers scenery.

Music-minded students here at Commerce can choose between chorus, band, and glee club. These three groups often combine to perform before the entire student body. The annual music assemblies, held in April, are eagerly anticipated by all the pupils.

For the Christmas assembly, the band, chorus, and choir combine to entertain the student body with seasonal music.

CLASS WILL

We the Seniors at the High School of Commerce, upon our departure from these hallowed halls bequest our most treasured possessions to those of you who are going to take our place next year.

Specifically:

Chris Bielecki leaves her place in the lunch line to Ronnie Willette.

Karen Blair leaves her Comic Book collection to Miss Blakeslee.

Thomas Bolduc leaves the lieutenant badge and all the trouble that goes with it to anyone who deserves it.

Ginny Caron leaves her vicious German Shepard to the varsity football team for a mascot.

Debbie Carter and Barbara Padsodowski leave Mr. Sweeney new class sweethearts.

Elliott Colen leaves Mr. Troy his detention hours.

Janet Covalli leaves Mr. Chelte a pair of binoculars to prevent eye strain.

Bette Cummings leaves her cheerleading uniform to Mrs. Durepo.

Michael Daley leaves his wrestling jacket to Mr. Meacham for future all star wrestlers.

Shelly Davidson leaves all her tardy passes to Dr. Midura.

Susan Dodds leaves her mini skirt to Miss Carroll.

Denise Doig leaves all her calculating knowlege to Mr. Jones.

Jane Donaldson and Sylvia Dragone leave their Muzzeys to Mr. Sandberg.

Cathy Dulude leaves Mr. D. some lunch room assistants, and to Mr. King a 6 inch book of passes.

Linda Favreau and the rest of the library assistants leave Mr. Ellison a new swivel chair.

Shirley Gamble leaves all the dissected frogs to Mr. Trespas.

Linda Gonzales leaves to Mrs. Bennett a notebook on the life of L. B. J.

Susan Groleau leaves to her Freshman sister, Carol, her presidency in the Honor Society.

Susan Groleau and Linda Toney leave to next year's Caduceus Staff, binoculars to watch boys from the library window.

Joe Gentles leaves his "white socks" and his every day worn senior hat and his brief case to Greg Valentine.

Michael Guess leaves his charm and looks to his favorite homeroom teacher, Miss Henderson.

Mary Ellen Hurley leaves to Dianne D'Agostine a permanent pass to Mr. Conchieri's Homeroom.

Robert Harding leaves his Professor Storkerfeller outfit to David Rivers in next year's Capers.

Terry Hardy leaves her red hair to Mr. Holley.

Ernestine Jewell leaves to Billie Green a handful of boys at Commerce.

John La Fleur and Paul Klein leave Mrs. Gumlaw legitimate dismissal excuses.

Clairanne Lamoureux leaves Mr. Holley's unpaid G. O. Homeroom to Mr. Conchieri.

Harry Melikian leaves his A's to any deserving junior who can afford it.

Pat Manley would leave his G. O. Accounting seat but he'll be back next year.

Marie Placanica leaves her wise cracks and saddle shoes to Nanci Gminski.

Robert Salter leaves the matrons on the first floor a new Senior Admirer.

Judy Samol leaves all the rushing and shoving in the locker rooms to the new freshmen.

The Senior Basketball players leave their Championship Record to be upheld by future Raiders.

Barbara Scibelli leaves her English seat in room 122 to her brother.

Pat Shepard leaves a package of throat lozenges to Mr. Finnegan.

Sylvia Sladder leaves the audio visual aids to Carmen Cayote.

Lynn Snyder leaves her seat in Mr. Jones' room to a next year Senior, and her autographed patrol post to Chris O'Connor.

Dorine Seymour leaves her "How Come?" to Maureen Manley.

Judy Clifford leaves all her shorthand skills to Miss Conway.

Karen Soukiasian leaves to Miss Henderson a Dr. Spock book and a bottle of tranquilizers for next year's psychology classes.

Joe Tomaino leaves a joke book to Mr. Mazurowski with good jokes to tell his students.

Karen Troy leaves patrol post 118 to the next girl who has the privilege of sitting at the top of the stairs where the boys come up from lunch.

Gary Ucella leaves his Don Juan date book and his book of passes to any junior Romeo.

Mary Woods leaves a great big lunch to Danny Sullivan.

"We the undersigned pupils; namely, Robert Salter, Lynn Snyder, Pat Ollari, Mary Woods, Danny McCarthy, and Dorothy Varelas leave in Regret, our typewriters in room 203 period 7 to Mrs. Gumlaw's New Zip Class.

Donna Schmidt leaves for a Senior in Mr. Chelte's homeroom, her loud voice for reading the announcements; also her talents from Capers.

Paul Sacharczyk leaves his wrestling record to be broken by a Senior next year.

To Mr. Allen we leave a stack of Playboys.

To Mr. Ellison we leave a pair of white socks.

To Mrs. Holt a Learn How To Type in 10 Easy Lessons Book.

To Mrs. Astorino a bag of live worms.

To Mr. Jones a gold plated ski and a polaroid swinger.

To Mr. Rogers a new lock for the back paper closet in study.

To Mr. Tenczar we leave the right girl.

To Mr. Troy we leave a short list of dismissals.

To Mr. Tillotson we leave a successful hockey team.

To the Juniors, the Senior Class leaves their voices in Class Competition.

To Mr. Sweeney the first lunch leaves a waste paper basket in front of the radiator outside the office for all the cookie wrappers dropped behind it.

To all the new Seniors we leave our blessings for a successful Senior Year.

The graduating class wishes to leave thanks to the faculty and administration of the High School of Commerce for the many times you gave us the benefit of the doubt and have made it possible for us to graduate.

CLASS HISTORY

Some three years ago in the September of '65 another academic year got under way in an old, red-brick high school from which would someday come dynamic business personalities of the future. Yet, few of the members of the confused mob of freshmen (better known as the Class of '68) felt very dynamic that first day. A big red and white sign across the front door which read, "Welcome Freshmen", was of little comfort, especially when we realized that those sneering characters in little white beanies were the ones who had hung the warm greeting.

That first week was definitely an education in itself. We received a belly-full of education from our cafeteria. We learned which was the proper side of the building to dance toward after the teacher had finally written out a pass. With great awe and admiration we met our poised and stalwart figures of authority; Mr. Sweeney, Dr. Midura, and Mr. Troy. Our financial giant, Mr. Conchieri, introduced us to the satisfying world of G. O. benefits, candy-bar sales and endless assemblies. We were introduced to our guidance counselors, who were always ready and willing to sacrifice our homeroom periods to give us comforting words of encouragement and wisdom in order to inspire us to achieve high scholastic achievement. Freshman boys met freshman girls, and freshman girls met senior boys and so forth and so on. And as we were all getting acquainted with new friends, we discovered students who had come to Commerce from strange and distant lands; like Australia, for example.

As the weeks grew into months, our class, six-hundred and fifty scholars strong, had the opportunity of selecting our student leaders. Paul Sacharczyk's fine oratory enticed us to make him our Class President. We placed Pat Ollari in the office of Vice-President, and Martha Allen won the office of Secretary, also receiving seats in our student council were Kathy Nolan, Brenda Belisle, Bob Harding, Marie Placanica, Andrea Parakilas, and Annette Fortune. As was the case many times before, a lack of enthusiasm and support foiled an attempt to hold a freshman dance.

We made a substantial contribution to our school's athletic efforts during our freshman year. The freshman football team was thirty players strong. Off-hand their results are unknown. But, we may assume that they made as fine a showing as Commerce athletes have made in the past. Our man, Wyatt Leak, playing in his first varsity game, caught a kick-off from Worcester at our eight-yard line, and with a couple of key blocks, ran for a ninty-two yard touchdown — too bad we lost the game!! And we could never forget Ricky Holmes, who sustained a broken leg while tending our goal at a soccer game against Southwick.

The high point of our freshman year came when Senator Edward Kennedy dropped in to talk about the Viet-Nam policy. Monsignor Leary of Cathedral High expressed his faith in youth in a memorable speech during our first Thanksgiving assembly. At an assembly in his behalf, Mr. Troy was honored and congratulated for being appointed Assistant Principal at Commerce. Mr. Russo became our head coach and boys' gym teacher.

Summer vacation came and went and it was again time to slouch into our chairs and make like we were busy. We had slipped into the "junior slump" just as juniors before us had done and juniors after us will do.

Things brightened up a little when we got our rings. Now we had a mark of distinction which put us above the freshman peasantry.

With open arms we welcomed back Mr. Sweeney who had been serving as assistant superintendent of secondary schools.

Pat Ollari, vice-president for our Junior year, did an exceptionally fine job as acting junior-class president in Danny Sullivan's absence due to injuries received at an early football practice. We re-elected Martha Allen for our class secretary. Voted into our student council was Kathy Nolan, Brenda Belisle, Bob Harding, Marie Placanica, Andrea Parakilas, and Tom Pitts.

"An Evening in Venice" was the theme of our Junior Prom, which took place April 29, 1967 at 8:00 P.M. The prom turned out to be a wondrous occasion. It was something we could truly be proud of. Reigning over the prom was the queen, Andrea Parakilas, with Carole Traffley, Nancy McNally, Pat Gutowski, Debbie Carter, Janice Cieplik and Carol Andrews as her court.

After our teachers got to know us better, they analyzed our behaviour and gave us our first taste of personality ratings.

Later on in the year Thurlow Spurr and the Spurrlows honored us with a wonderful ensemble of lively music and rollicking humor.

Next to graduation, getting one of those crazy white beanies is one of the most joyous occasions of all the three years in high school. In September, when our senior caps graced our heads, we knew we had attained distinction; and we all felt unbelievably cool.

Our class president, Gary Ucella welcomed us back to our final year at Commerce. And for the third year in a row both Pat Ollari and Martha Allen were re-elected to their previous offices. Kathy Nolan, Debbie Carter, Pat Manley, Penney Lionetta, Mary Woods, and Marie Placanica were elected to our Student Council.

The social event of the season was our Christmas dance, "Winter Wonderland." It was held on the evening of the sixteenth of December between 7:30 and 11:30 P.M. Thomas Bolduc, "a right jolly old elf," played Santa and handed out lollipops and candy canes to each of the charming couples that were present.

Harry Melikian was chosen good Government Representative on the basis of his scholastic activities. Representing the student who has done the most outstanding job at Commerce, Sue Grondski was given the DAR award for outstanding citizenship and, Anthony Loving was chosen for the Brotherhood Award. We are proud to have these students as a part of our class, and we congratulate them for their fine achievement.

For some of us the past three years have flown by rather quickly, and for some others, the years have dragged on with no end in sight. But for all of us, Commerce has provided us with fond memories which we will cherish all the rest of our lives.

General Organization Aides

Essential to the financing of school activities is General Organization. For a nominal fee, a student is benefitted through reductions on articles such as: the school yearbook, various athletic events, school dances, and the annual school show "Capers." Every homeroom has a G.O. agent and an alternate. These agents collect payments which are taken to the G.O. accounting homeroom where selected bookkeeping students keep an active account of the funds. These accounts are located in room 113 and superviser by Mr. Conchieri, faculty advisor.

General Organization supervisor, Mr. Conchieri, sells basketball game ticket at reduced price to G.O. member, Pamela Davis.

Commerce, the school's newspaper, is very informative to students and faculty alike. It keeps them up to date with the various events, activities, and alumni news occurring at school. Special editorials and sports reports also make for very stimulating and enjoyable reading. Under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Connell, Commerce is published monthly. Students who excel in writing ability are chosen as reporters to participate in this interesting activity.

Caduceus reflects

Toward the end of each school year, fond memories are recalled with the distribution of Caduceus, our yearbook. It is composed by the editorial staff working during seventh period under the supervision of Mr. Ciesluk. Miss McCleary, Miss Connell, and Miss Henderson are in charrge of the pictorial staff, and Mr. Alminas and Mr. Mazurowski head the business staff. Mr. King and Michelle Holland, a member of the editorial staff, are responsible for this year's cover design.

Pictures of class and extra-curricular activities, as well as those of outstanding events of the year are featured on the pages of this book. Caduceus will long be cherished by Commerce students as they reflect upon their high school days.

The editorial staff is busy in its attempt to make this year's book the best ever.

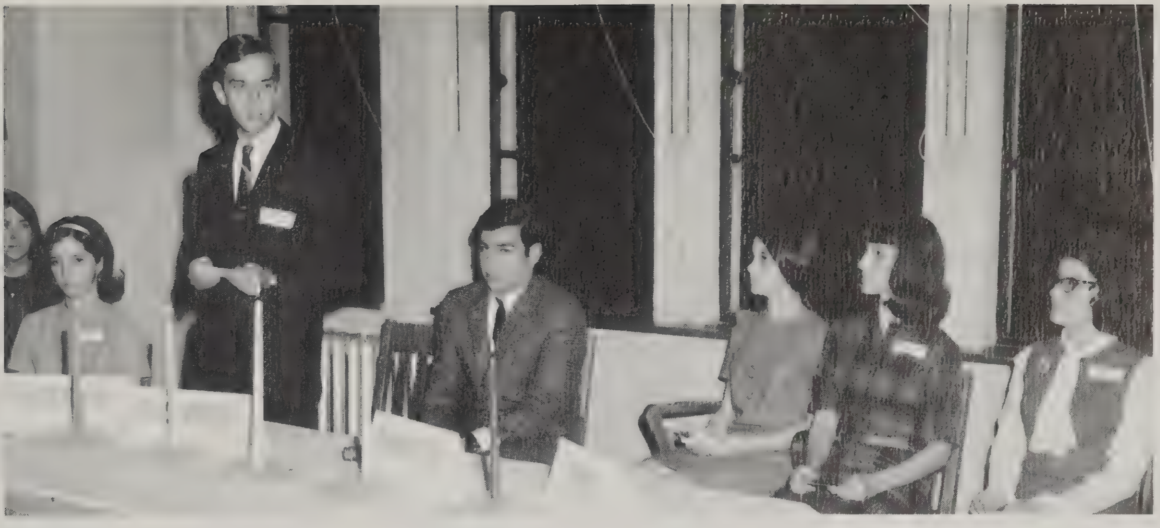
National Honor Society Aids the School

Robert Harding and Richard Nahlovsky making selections at the bookstall in room 221.

The National Honor Society is comprised of pupils with a high academic record and a willingness to serve the school. Members of this organization, under the direction of Mrs. Griffin, perform various duties such as: delivering bus tickets on Monday mornings, taking charge of the bookstall in room 221, and selling plastic yearbook covers at the end of the school year. Money obtained during the year provides scholarships for worthy students in the organization.

Each October new members are inducted. This fall, for the first time, the ceremony was held in the evening and parents were invited. Shown on the following page are photographs taken at this year's ceremony.



Speeches were given on the subjects of leadership, scholarship, character, and service.

Carole Traffley received a letter of commendation for her score on the National Merit Scholarship Test.

Parents were invited guests at the ceremony.

New Members took the National Honor Society pledge.

French Club Offers Scholarships

The French Club was organized last year to arouse interest in French. Its main purpose has changed, however, to one of providing scholarships. The members have participated in many fund-raising activities to supplement this scholarship program. These activities, such as cupcake sales, also provide the money for prizes awarded to winners of the Frnech contest held annually.

The activities of this club are supervised by Miss Burlow. Regular meetings were held every two weeks and were conducted by the club's president, Marie Hagopian. Among this year's plans was a trip to New York, financed by the membership dues.

Ski Club Invades Slopes

The Ski Club was organized to provide students with the opportunity to become acquainted with the sport. Any students interested in skiing may join. Beginners are given lessons regularly at Mount Tom, where there is equipment available to those students who do not own their own. The club is not just for beginners, however, many of its members are good skiers who wish to improve their skills.

Among the many phases of learning to ski, these club members must also develop the safety practices of the slopes. This is one of the primary duties of the club's advisor, Mr. Tenczar.

Future Nurses Lay Groundwork For Nursing Careers

Students who are interested in nursing careers may join the Future Nurses Club. The members discuss nursing techniques in various hospitals and nursing homes. At important meetings representatives of hospitals in our area visit the members, relating the training and qualifications necessary for admittance into hospitals, as well as medical laboratories. Under the guidance of Mrs. Bennett, the students often visit surrounding hospitals and nursing homes to achieve a better understanding of nursing.

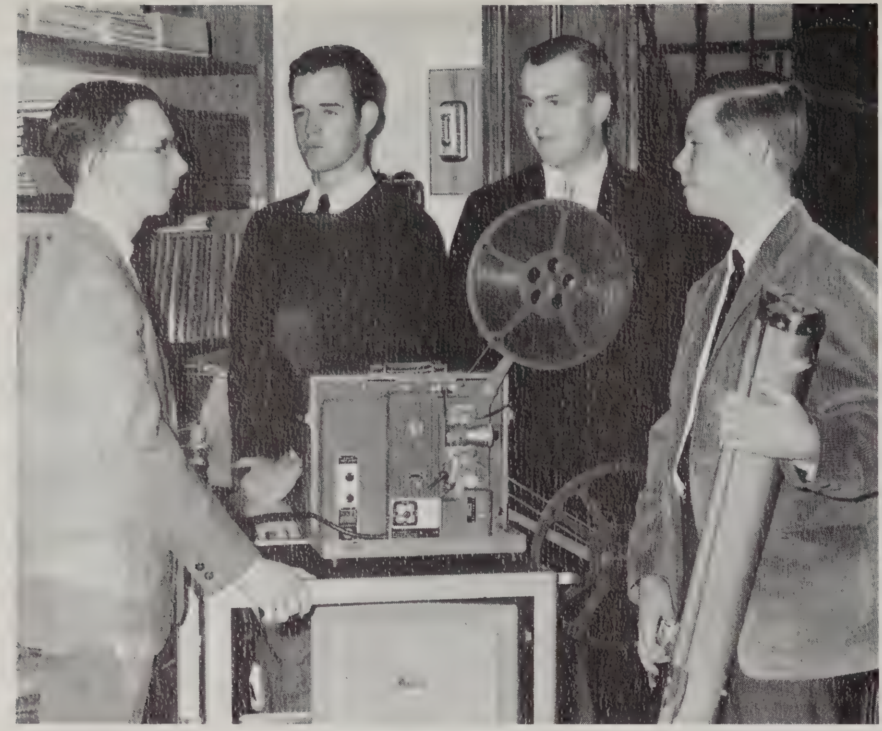
Student Council governs

One regular duty of the Student Council is to elect Senior Standouts for the Commerce newspaper each month. These students are chosen according to what they have done for the school and the records they have established for themselves. The activities of this organization are headed by its president, Marie Placanica.

Among the activities planned by this year's Student Council was the canned goods drive during the Christmas season. The seniors, juniors, and freshmen competed in this collection for the Salvation Army. Due to this successful effort, many cans of food were distributed to needy families.

Council members attend a meeting conducted by its president, Marie Placanica.



Paul McKenna, Blair Harrington, Carl Spedding, and Daniel Boyle, audio-visual aides, prepare equipment for delivery.

Audio Visual Aides Operate Audio-Visual School Equipment

Audio visual aides are trained to run the projection equipment of our school. Under the supervision of Mr. Harold Jones, they assist teachers in running classroom film machines for the benefit of the students. Among their many responsibilities, the aides play a vital role in the production of Capers (the annual school show), and at assemblies where they operate public address system.

Bruce Parker and Richard Almeida check out books with Linda Harris.

Library Assistants Aid In The Management Of The Library

Library assistants play a very important part in the organization of the school library. Mr. Ellison, a faculty supervisor, says that he picks his assistants on the basis that they are faithful, dependable, and interested in working. The girls have the following responsibilities: locating overdue books, and keeping a record of attendance.

Lunchroom Aides Aide In The Cafateria

The operation of our cafeteria has become efficient and orderly, largely due to the efforts of our lunchroom aides. Under the supervision of Mrs. Kopy, they serve either as cashiers in the lunchroom or as aides in the kitchen. Mr. Rumpal, the senior college advisor, chooses these students upon the recommendation of their teachers.

Luncheon aide, MaryAnn Papadakis, takes payment for a student's lunch.

Cathy Staples makes a sale to Cynthia Holeman as Joan Burns looks on.

Trading Post Provides Supplies

The Trading Post is open Mondays and Thursdays for the convenience of faculty members and students. The supplies carried by this enterprise are sold at reduced rates. Among the articles available for purchase are: dictionaries, notebooks, the Commerce insignia, and other school items.

Having such an establishment within the school proves itself to be very convenient when a student discovers the need for a pencil or, in many cases, a bookcover.

Band Displays Musical Talents

The Band is composed of approximately 30 students interested in instrumental music. The group is instructed by Mr. Nickerson and practices regularly in Room 27.

Aside from entertaining the students and faculty members at special musical presentations, the band occasionally plays at rallies. This special bonus gives a boost to the already high level of enthusiasm felt by all.

Band members practice their program planned for presentation to students and teachers.

VOCAL GROUPS ENTERTAIN AT SPECIAL ASSEMBLIES

During the year, the Chorus and Choir present special programs for the entertainment of the student body and faculty members. This year's program was presented during the Christmas season under the supervision of the musical driector, Mr. Nickerson. The program featured a special Christmas story acted out in tableau by members of the Choir.

Denise Dasso performs a cow-jump, a part of "Extra!"

Assemblies Reflect School Interests

Assemblies are a vital part of school life at the High School of Commerce. Through them the students learn about job requirements, special occasions, and people of importance.

The most popular form of assemblies is the rally. These rallies serve to create extra enthusiasm before sporting events.

Like lightning, agile Jessie Spinks passes the ball under the basket to his comrade, Herman Curtis.

The 1968 Varsity Basketball Team was . . . fabulous! Never before in the history of Commerce have so many victories been won. The person who guided the Red Raiders to the Western Mass. trophy and then on to the state finals was Coach Tom Russo. In the state finals, Commerce earned the admiration of Western Massachusetts as being the first team from Springfield to enter the finals in Boston. At the end of the season, Commerce had totaled 63.2 points a game while all other opponents had scored only 47.2 points a game. Two outstanding players that should be given special merit are Jessie Spinks and Isaac Aycox both of whom made the All-City Team and the All-State Tournament Team.

Acknowledgments

The Editorial Staff and its adviser, Mr. Cielsluk, wish to thank:

Michelle Holland for her original cover design.

Miss McCleary and her production staff, Sandra Demerski, Annette Grundstrum, Dolores Wood, and Patricia Sullivan, for their efficient service in making all photo arrangements. Their cooperation was of great help in meeting many tight deadlines.

Mr. Jones, our faculty photographer, for his reliable, on-the-spot service.

Miss Henderson and Miss Grace Connell for proficiently supervising senior photo appointments.

Harry Melikian for his fine candid photos.

Mr. Alminas, Mr. Mazurowski, and their business staff, for the financing and distributing of Caduceus '68.

Mr. Sweeney, his administrative staff, and the faculty for their patience and tolerance with our necessary classroom interruptions and for their assistance with photo identifications.

Mrs. Ellis for compiling vital senior data promptly and willingly.

Bosworth Studio for their aid to our student photographers and for their cooperation in photographing special evening events.

Mr. Jack Brown of T. O'Toole and Sons for his much appreciated guidance in the technical production of Caduceus '68.

Mr. King for his helpful suggestions on the final design of the yearbook cover.

Marjorie Ross for her dedication in spending study periods and extra-curricular time to meet various deadlines.

And most of all, we wish to thank all of our fellow students for theirs was the most important role played in the production of Caduceus '68.

Before you accept that first job . . .

Look over your employer as carefully as he does you

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone.

Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.
